GENERAL ADVICE WARNING

In most instances, we will provide you with general advice, that is advice which does not take your objectives, financial situation or needs into consideration. Please read the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) to before you decide if our advice suits you.

WHEN WE PROVIDE YOU WITH PERSONAL ADVICE

If we provide you with personal advice, which takes into account your objectives, financial situation and needs, when arranging or advising on Sickness and Accident or Consumer Credit Insurance, we will also give you a Statement of Advice (SoA). This will contain the advice we have given, the basis of the advice and information on our remuneration and any relevant associations or interests.

For all other types of general insurance, we will inform you when we provide personal advice and provide you with the basis of our advice.

COOLING OFF PERIODS

Your PDS will contain information relating to your cooling off rights. You may be entitled to a minimum of 14 days cooling off period, from the date the cover commences, during which you can cancel your policy and receive a refund of all money paid.

Cooling off periods can vary so you should check your PDS carefully and contact us if you have any questions about your cooling off rights.

The cooling off period does not affect any other cancellation rights that you may have under your policy.

Your Duty of Disclosure

When you take out insurance, renew, or vary a policy you hold, you have a duty to disclosure under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984. Your duties will differ depending on the type of insurance you are taking out, renewing, or varying.

The duty not to make a misrepresentation applies to insurances that are wholly or predominately for personal, domestic, or household purpose. This duty will also apply when you are taking out a new policy and the insurer has issued a notice that it is a consumer insurance contract.

For all insurances that are not a consumer insurance contract, the duty of disclosure applies.

DUTY TO NOT MAKE A MISREPRESENTATION

Applicable to Consumer Insurance Contracts (personal/domestic)

You have a duty under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the insurer (your duty).

Your duty applies only in respect of a policy that is a consumer insurance contract, which is a term defined in the Insurance Contracts Act.

Your duty applies before you enter into the policy, and also before you renew, extend, vary, or reinstate the policy.

Before you do any of these things, you may be required to answer questions and the insurer will use the answers you provide in deciding whether to insure you, and anyone else to be insured under the policy, and on what terms.

When you renew your policy, we will include information you have previously told us that is relevant to your policy, which we passed on to the insurer. The insurer requires you to contact us to tell us if this information is incorrect, or if it has changed. If you do not tell us about a change to something you have previously told us, the insurer will take this to mean that there is no change.

To ensure you meet your duty, your answers to the questions must be truthful, accurate and complete. This duty also applies when you contact us to advise of any information that is incorrect or has changed when you renew your policy.

If you fail to meet your duty, the insurer may be able to cancel your contract or reduce the amount it will pay if you make a claim, or both.

If your failure is fraudulent, the insurer may be able to refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

DUTY OF DISCLOSURE

Applicable to Non-Consumer Insurance Contracts

Before you enter into an insurance contract, you have a duty to tell the insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that may affect the insurer's decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until the insurer agrees to insure you. You have the same duty before you renew, extend, vary, or reinstate an insurance contract.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- reduces the risk they insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- the insurer knows, or should know; or
- the insurer waives your duty to tell them about.

If you do not tell the insurer something

If you do not tell the insurer anything you are required to, they may cancel your contract, or reduce the amount they will pay you if you make a claim, or both.

If your failure to tell the insurer is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

You can ask us what commission rates we are paid for that funding arrangement compared to the other arrangements that were available to you.

In some cases, another person or company may introduce you to us or refer us to an insurer. In return, we may pay commission or fees to them, or pay them an agreed fee. If they do, the amount is paid out of our commission or fees, generally in the range of 0% to 50%.

If we give you personal advice, we will inform you of any fees, commission or other payments we, our associates or anyone referring you to us (or us to any insurer) will receive in relation to the policies that are subject to the advice.

We may appoint distributors under specific agreements to distribute certain insurance products on their behalf. These distributors do not have the authority to provide financial product advice. Other Important Information

UTMOST GOOD FAITH

Every contract of insurance is subject to the doctrine of utmost good faith, which requires that both you and the insurer act toward each other with the utmost good faith and integrity in all dealings. If you fail to act in accordance with this duty, the insurer may refuse your claim, cancel your policy or both.

ESSENTIAL READING OF THE POLICY WORDING

The policy wordings have been provided to you or will be passed to you as soon as they are received from Insurers. It is in your own best interests to read these documents without delay and advise us, in writing, of any aspects which are not clear to you or where any aspect of the cover does not meet with your requirements.

PRIVACY NOTICE

We maintain a record of your personal profile, including details of insurance policies that we arrange or issue for you and any recommendations or advice given to you. We will retain this FSG and any other FSG given to you, as well as any SoA or PDS that we give or pass on to you for the period required by law. If you would like to view your file, we will arrange for you to do so.

We are committed to the protection of your privacy and handle your personal information in accordance with the Australian Privacy Principles and the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth). A copy of our privacy policy is available on request or on our website:
www.networksteadfast.com.au

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

We have a conflicts management policy in place for identifying and managing actual or potential conflicts of interest. Where our own interests conflict with any duty we owe you, we will not proceed until we have fully informed you of this conflict and you have provided us with your informed consent.

CODE OF PRACTICE

We subscribe to and are bound by the Insurance Brokers Code of Practice, a full copy of which can be provided by us on request and is available from the National Insurance Brokers Association (NIBA) website www.niba.com.au

OUR INSURANCES

Network Insurance Group has a professional indemnity insurance policy (PI Policy) in place that satisfies the requirements for compensation arrangements under section 912B of the Corporations Act. This policy covers claims relating to our conduct, and that of our representatives, both past and present.

POLICY SPECIFIC NOTICES

Unnamed Parties

In most cases, the insurable interest of lessors, financiers, trustees, mortgagees, owners and all other parties who have a legal interest or charge over the Property Insured are automatically included as third-party beneficiaries without needing to be noted on the Policy.

If you require a person to be named as a co-insured, joint insured or insured person to be covered by your policy, you must request this. Please note, we cannot guarantee that an insurer will accommodate a request to include a further party as an insured on your policy.

If this is a requirement under a contract or agreement, do not sign the contract without checking with us as to whether the insurer is prepared to include the other party as an insured.

Change of Risk or Circumstances

It is vital that you advise us of any changes to your circumstances so that we can confirm that your insurance continues to be suitable for your needs. Please contact us if you are in any doubt as to whether your insurer should be notified of certain changes.

Average or Co-Insurance

Some policies contain an Average/Co-Insurance clause, which means that you must insure for the full insurable value of the property insured. If you under-insure, your claim may be reduced in proportion to the amount of the under- insurance.

Non-Renewable Insurances

Cover under your policies terminate on the date shown on your tax invoice or adjustment note. Some policies are not renewable contracts. If you wish to effect similar insurance for any subsequent period, it will be necessary for you to complete a new proposal prior to the termination of the current policy so that terms of insurance and quotations can then be developed for your consideration.

Claims Occurring Prior to Commencement

Your attention is drawn to the fact that your policies do not provide indemnity in respect of events that occurred PRIOR to commencement of the contract.

Claims Made During the Period of Insurance

Some policies (for example, Professional Indemnity insurance) provide cover on a "claims made" basis, which means that claims first advised to you (or made against you) and reported to your insurer during the Period of Insurance are recoverable irrespective of when the incident causing the claim occurred, subject to the provisions of any clause relating to a "retroactive date".

You should also note that, in terms of the provisions of Section 40(3) of the Insurance Contracts Act 1984, where you give notice in writing to the Insurer of facts that might give rise to a claim against you as soon as is reasonably practicable after you become aware of those facts (but before the insurance cover provided by the contract expires) then the Insurer is not relieved of liability under the contract in respect of the claim, when made, by reason only that it was made after the expiration of the Period of Insurance cover provided by the contract.

In order to ensure that any entitlement under the policy is protected, you must therefore report all incidents that may give rise to a claim against you to the Insurers without delay after such incidents come to your attention and prior to the expiration of the policy period.

Leasing, Hiring, and Borrowing of Property

When you lease, hire, or borrow property, make sure that the contract clearly identifies who is responsible to insure the property. This will help avoid arguments after a loss and ensure that any claims are efficiently processed.

Most property policies will automatically cover property you are responsible to insure, subject to the policy deductible. You may also have other insurance, such as Public Liability that may assist you meet claims relating to property damage or personal injury caused to or by property, which you lease or hire.

If the responsibility to insure lies with the owner, we recommend you try to ensure the lease or hire conditions waive any rights of recovery against you, even when the damage is due to your negligence.

This will prevent the owner's Insurer making a recovery against you. If there are no lease or hire conditions, you should write to the owner asking who is to insure the property.

Subrogation and Contractual Liability

Some policies contain provisions that either exclude or reduce the insurer's liability, if you have entered into an agreement that excludes or limits your rights to recover damages from another party.

You may prejudice your rights with regard to a claim if, without prior agreement from your Insurers, you make any agreement with a third party that will prevent the Insurer from recovering the loss from that, or another party who would be otherwise liable.

Examples of such agreements are the "hold harmless" clauses, which are often found in leases, property management contracts, maintenance or supply contracts from burglar alarm or fire protection installers and repair contracts.

You should seek legal advice before signing and accepting contracts.

We may be able to negotiate with your insurer to permit these contacts and request that you inform us of any clauses of this nature before signing any lease or contract.

Insurance Placed with Unauthorised Foreign Insurers

In limited cases, we may recommend that you insure with an unauthorised foreign insurer. An unauthorised foreign insurer is an insurer that is not authorised under the Insurance Act 1973 (Act) to conduct insurance business in Australia and is not subject to the system of financial supervision of general insurers in Australia that is monitored by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority. If the insurer becomes insolvent, you will not be protected by the Federal Government's Financial Claims Scheme provided under Part VC of that Act.

If your Account Manager recommends that you insure with an unauthorised foreign insurer, they will provide you with relevant information to make an informed decision.
